THE OWLS BANQUET

HELD MONDAY NIGHT TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF ORDER

WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Lodge Instituted Here Last March and Now Has 288 Members, With Forty-Two Applications In.

One of the biggest and most successful banquets given in Maryville was the banquet given Monday night in the armory hall by the Owls to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the order. And it is doubtful whether a banquet was ever given in the city that had such a menu as that given Monday night. It consisted of roast pig and apples, baked 'possum, friend and stewed rabbit, baked and fried chicken, roast duck sandwiches, salad, celery, olives, sweet pickles, coffee and cigars.

After the dinner was over, George B. Baker, as toastmaster called the diners to order. Toasts were given by Mayor Arthur S. Robey, W. E. Wiles, Charles McCaffrey, Frank Bolin, J. F. Hull, O. K. Herndon and Lawrence Schumacher.

The Owls lodge was instituted in Maryville last March, and now has a membership of 288. Forty-two new applications for membership were received Monday night. It certainly has grown some for the short time it has been here.

The committee in charge of the banquet Monday was composed of Clyde Avitt, M. Nusbaum, Roy Yeaman, John Wallace, William Hansen and Roy Martin. They were assisted by a number of members of the Owls.

TIGERS WON GAME.

Victors Over Giants in Normal Basket ball Tournament.

Standing of Teams.

	P.	W.	L.	P.ct
Tigers	15	10	5	.666
Athletics	16	10	6	.625
Dodgers	16	8	8	.500
Dwarfs	15	5	10	.333
Giants	16	5	11	.312

Captain Mitchell and his "Royal Bengals" romped away with the large end of a 24 to 12 score Monday night in the semi-final round of the Normal basket ball tournament. Their victims were the lowly Giants. The Tigers have but to beat the Dwarfs to win the pennant. But the leaders will find that to be a mill stone in the pennant path for the Dwarfs are going good now, and they are scrapping hard to keep out of the cellar.

Should the Dwarfs give the leaders a setback that would mean a tie between the Tigers and the Athletics, and eventually a post-season game or series of games to decide the race.

In last night's game the Giants put up a good scrap the first half, that period ending with the Bengals but two points to the good. However, in the second half the Tigers came back like a whirlwind and played the Giants off their feet. The outcome of the agony was 24 to 12. Nixon, the Tigers' center, was the star of the game. The big center scored five goals from the field, and, furthermore, he was in every play. Taylor set an excellent example for his teammates by getting three difficult field goals, but his hard work was in vain. The gritty little captain deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which he has fought every game to the finish, though his team has occupied a cellar position during most of the tournament.

The line-up of the Tiger-Giant game:

Tigers—Mitchell and Carpenter, forwards; Nixon, center; R. Miller and Holmes, guards.

Giants—Price and Taylor, forwards; Powell, center; V. Seymour and Hanna, guards.

Summary—Field goals, Carpenter 2, Mitchell 4, Nixon 5, Taylor 3, Price 2. Free throws, Carpenter 2, Seymour 2.

In the Dwarf-Athletics game the shining light was Daise, the Dwarfs' left forward. He gathered in four field goals and a free throw for a total of 9 points of the Dwarfs' 14. The Dwarfs led until the last few minutes of play, when the Athletics nosed them out and won. Score, 15 to 14. The Athletics' only hope now is for the Dwarfs to defeat the Tigers, which would give Perrin's men a chance at the Bengals for the pennant. The deciding game will be played at the Normal gymnasium Tuesday afternoon at 4:15. The Dwarfs-Athletics game:

Dwarfs—Dunshee and Daise, forwards; McClintock, center; F. Miller and Bright, guards.

Athletics—Allen and Strader, forwards; Perrin, center; Simpson and Cook, guards.

Summary—Fields goals, Dunshee 1, Daise 4, McClintock 1, Allen 2, Strader -, Perrin 1. Free throws, Daise 1, Dunshee 1, Perrin 7.

Referee—V. I. Moore. Scorer, D. Parman.

THE BOYS ARE SHY

1911 MARRIAGE LICENSE RECORD FAR BELOW THAT OF 1910.

NEXT YEAR IS LEAP YEAR

County Recorder Expects Business to Pick Up After January First—Only 225 Licenses Issued.

This year's record is going to fall behind that of last year in the marriage license line unless "popping the question" becomes epidemic in Nodaway county within the next few days. The year 1911 opened up rather well, but there has been a slump since the drouth.

Thus far this year there have been 225 marriage licenses issued. During the year 1910 there were 268, there being 38 in December.

Up to Tuesday there had been 18 marriage licenses issued during the first twenty days in November, while last year there were only 17 issued during the whole month. October had 26 marriage licenses issued as compared with 29 during the same period last year.

Recorder J. Arthur Wray thinks that this year's total will come up to last year's. He says that during December there are always a large number of marriage licenses issued, and that now December is the real marrying month instead of June. During December last year there were more licenses issued than for any other month that year.

Recorder Wray is not worrying much on this year's marriage record on account of the fact that 1912 is leap year.

TO PLAY SKIDMORE.

Normal to Meet That Team on Thursday Night at Gymnasium.

Coach Moore has completed the arrangement for a basket ball game Thursday night, November 23, with the Skidmore Teddy Bears, to be played at the Normal gymnasium. The Teddy Bear team is an independent team, composed of former college and high school stars living in the vicinity of Skidmore, and they have an excellent team. Since the Normals' defeat of Tarkio high school last Thursday the boys feel as though they could mop up on any aggregation in this neck of the woods.

The squad is practicing every night with the second team, and the men are rapidly developing team work, which was sadly missing in the Tarkio game. The team will appear in their new uniforms Thursday night. The jerseys are solid green with a white six-inch N. N. monogram.

Dante's "Inferno."

The possibilities of the moving picture and its wider field of usefulness have never been illustrated more forcibly than in the reproduction of Dante's "Inferno." The picture has features possessed by no other similar attraction, and does indeed mark a new era in the history of cinematography.

FOR LOCAL OPTION

PETITIONS WILL BE CIRCULATED ASKING FOR SPECIAL ELECTION.

ORGANIZATION FORMED

Largely Attended Meeting at M. E. Church Took Steps Toward Making Maryville Dry.

Local option is to be voted on in Maryville within the next few months, so it was decided at the meeting held Monday night at the First M. E. church. The meeting was largely attended and was composed mostly of prominent church people, who are back of the movement to have the question submitted.

It was decided to commence at once getting signers to the petition asking the city council to call a special election to vote on the proposition. As all that is required is that the petition asking the council for the special election must have 10 per cent of the qualified legal voters of the city, and if there are that many to the petition the council will have to set aside a day when the people will vote on the question. The petition will be circulated, commencing Wednesday, and it is thought that it will only take a few days to get the necessary signers. It will then be presented to the council at their next regular night, which is on Friday night, December 8. Then a day will be set aside by the council, probably the latter part of January of next year.

An organization was perfected at the meeting held Monday. S. G. Gillam was elected president, Judge J. H. Sayler secretary and J. Arthur Wray treasurer. The committees will be appointed at the meeting to be held Thursday night.

A local option election was held in Maryville on September 12, 1907, at which time there were a majority of 199 votes cast against local option. On the same day the election was held in the county, and it carried by over 600 majority.

Since Maryville is the only saloon town in this part of the state, a determined effort will be made by both the "drys" and the "wets" to win. The sentiment here, it is believed, has changed from what it was four years ago, and it looks as if the "drys" have a chance to win.

It will only take about 100 signers to the petition for the council to call the election. Many more than this number will be secured.

One feature that will enter into the campaign will be how Maryville is to make up the revenue she now receives from the two saloons here. The license is $4,200 for each saloon, or a total revenue of $8,400 is received by the city from both. This is the highest license known that any saloons pay to a city.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. THE EVIL OF IDLE GOSSIP.

It is one of the foibles of humanity to believe and carry evil report. It may be one manifestation of the selfishness of the race, for a wise man who lived centuries ago said that "Love thinketh no evil." The wagging tongue is a dangerous weapon and a two-edged one, since it brings woe to its owner as well as its victim. Idle gossip breeds many kinds of ill consequences, yet how common a fault it is with most of us.

The law sets us a good example in presuming every man arraigned for wrong to be innocent until proven guilty, and it gives him the benefit of every doubt, convicting him only upon the most conclusive evidence. No individuals in their private social intercourse should prefer to believe good of each other rather than evil. They could do well to adopt the maxim of of law either of the Pauline doctrine of thinking no evil, or the modern statute of holding every man innocent until proved guilty.

Such a precedent put in practice would tend to offset the evil of idle gossip. It is always possible to hear bad things of good men, but no good can come of repeating them. The Mosaic code set the example by forbidding "false witness against thy neighbor," and in this it has never been improved upon.—Jefferson City Democrat.

NO CONVICT LABOR.

Congressman Booher's Bill Will Eliminate Undesirable Feature.

The laboring people are perhaps not familiar with the bill that Congressman Charles F. Booher of this district introduced in congress at the last session, and which will come up at the regular session next month for passage. This bill deals with convict labor, and is now in the hands of the committee on labor, to which it was referred. The bill, H. R. No. 5601, is as follows:

A bill—To limit the effect of the regulation of interstate commerce between the states in goods, wares and merchandise wholly or in part manufactured by convict labor or in any prison or reformatory.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled. That all goods, wares and merchandise, manufactured wholly or in part by convict labor, or in prison or reformatory, transported into any state or territory or remaining therein for use, consumption, sale or storage, shall upon arrival, and delivery in such state or territory, be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of such state or territory to the same extent and in the same manner as though such goods, wares and merchandise had been manufactured in such state of territory, and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced in original packages or otherwise.—Atchison County Mail.

A Few Applications of Simple Remedy Restores the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that nature needs assistance. It is nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, Koch Pharmacy.

IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION.

Mrs. Roscoe Tilson, Who Attempted Suicide, Taken to Hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. Roscoe Tilson, who attempted suicide at her home on East First street Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, was taken to St. Francis hospital Tuesday afternoon for treatment. Her physicians, Drs. F. M. and C. V. Martin, regard her condition as critical.

The Tilson family lives in a part of the residence occupied by L. H. Hill and family, the Shelton place, east of the hospital. Mrs. Tilson took fourteen grains of bi-chloride of mercury about 3 o'clock and then told Mrs. Hill what she had done, and was taken ill immediately. Mrs. Hill called the Drs. Martin and they arrived soon after Mrs. Tilson took the medicine, and the antidotes administered soon gave relief, but the patient is in a critical condition.

Mrs. Tilson gave no reason for her act. She is a young woman in the early twenties, and her husband, also a young man, is a brother of Sheriff W. R. Tilson and John L. Tilson. They have a small son, 2 or 3 years old. They came here recently from Montana. Mr. Tilson is employed by a telephone company.

TO COME TO MARYVILLE.

Fine Stock Here to Be Judged by M. S. U. Students.

Eight students at the animal husbandry department of the state university at Columbia, accompanied by Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, the head of the department, will arrive in Maryville Thursday and will be the guests of J. F. Roelofson and Bellows Bros. They will inspect Roelofson's stock of Percheron and standard horses, and will judge the Bellows Bros.' famous herd of Shorthorn cattle.

The students constitute the most successful amateur animal judges in the department. The university will send a delegation to compete in the student scoring contest at the International Live Stock fair, which will open in Chicago the first of next month. In the meantime they are visiting stock farms, practicing scoring.

Fundamental vs. Frills.

Mrs. Champ Clark, who registered in the "visitors' book" of a Kansas City school as "wife of a servant," because her famous husband is a servant of the Missouri people, has declared in favor of a thorough schooling in the "Three Rs" as the best preparation for further schooling or even for the school of life. The drill (to the point of mastery) which the 'd time country school gave in fundamentals had a value not equaled by the "frills" of modern school study courses. "This simple illustration," she is quoted as saying, "may serve to show the general advantages possessed by the country woman; she can come to the city and learn not to blow out the gas, while a city woman can't go to the country and find her way through the woods alone. In other words, women of the country possess self-reliance and adaptability, and they are among the most important things in life."

Funeral Services Wednesday.

The funeral services for the late Charles Saunders, the blind man who died at his home, near the Wabash depot, Monday, will be held in Burlington Junction Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, at the Christian church.

For New Parliament Building.

The contract has been let for an addition to the British parliament building at Victoria, to cost $1,000,000, practically doubling the size of the building. Work is to be commenced immediately and rushed with all possible speed, as the present offices are so congested that clerks and officers are badly cramped to carry on the details of the provincial government. The building is to be erected of British Columbia stone, same as original structure, and be fully up to all modern improvements. It is expected that when the building is completed and furnished and the grounds laid out in landscape the total outlay may reach $1,250,000 and that British Columbia will have the finest parliament buildings in Canada.

Women Mountain Climbers.

Miss Mary Vail of Paris, France, and Miss Cornish of Boston have climbed 15 of the smaller peaks of the Swiss mountains and many of the higher of the Appalachian range, and this summer camped on Mount Kahtahdin, they being the first women who have ever made the ascent. They are perfectly at home in the rough camps and on the mountain trail, for which they wear the proper costumes.

Stirred Up!

"Our whole neighborhood has been stirred up," said the regular reader.

The editor of the country weekly seized his pen. "Tell me all about it," he said. "What we want is news. What stirred it up?"

"Plowing," said the farmer.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy.

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

SOME HOPEFUL HINTS.

Here Are a Few Suggestions That May Be of Some Help.

Some hopeful hints for the husbands have just been compiled by one unmarried man, and it might be well to publish them for the benefit of the men of Maryville. They are as follows:

When you bring your wife home a box of candy always eat it all up yourself. It will make her glad to see you enjoying yourself.

Don't ever listen to anything your wife is telling you. You might make her think you are her equal.

Always come into the house with a smile on your face. It will make your wife wonder in whose company you have been.

Never talk to your wife at the breakfast table. If you say nothing you can never be accused of saying sarcastic things.

Never commend the coffee. Your wife will be sure to imagine that she can try a cheaper grade and save some of her housekeeping money.

Let the children use all the slang they want to. By doing this you may pick up some forceful expressions yourself.

If you are going to be late for dinner, never take the trouble or time to telephone. The servant may quit, but your wife won't.

Give your wife a regular allowance, but borrow most of its back during the week. This will teach her economy, and an economical wife is a husband's blessing.

Don't bother to lift your hat to your wife when you meet her in the street. Too much attention makes any woman vain.

Never let your wife know when you are going to bring a friend home to dinner. The ilttle surprises are the spice of married life.

Never fail to remind your wife on her birthday how young and slender she looked the first time you saw her. Loving memories are honey to women's hungry hearts.

When your wife is telling a story to your guests, always be sure to interrupt her and finish it yourself. A true woman always appreciates a husband's aid.

Never go to church with your wife on Sunday morning. The oftener you go the oftener she will expect you to, and you might get the habit.

If your wife says she has a headache just laugh at her. There is nothing like laughter to lighten life's burdens.

Always believe everything your wife tells you, and by and by she may begin to believe some of the things you tell her.

Never explain where you have been when you have been out late at night. If you do it once you'll have to do it always.

Never forget to remove your collar as soon as you get home. An untidy husband excellently chastens an impatient wife.

Miss Ethel Everist, living west of Maryville, is a patient at St. Francis hospital from an attack of appendicitis, and is getting along nicely.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

Miss Bessie Graham of Clyde, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. T. J. Parle, and other relatives, returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Fred Lyle and son of Ravenwood were in Maryville on business Tuesday.

All trimmed hats half price at McCrary & McCrary's.

WOES OF THE BUSINESS MAN

Just a Sample of the Many Things That Turn His Raven Locks to Gray.

The new girl was taking dictation from the head of the firm, a Wall street broker. In the letter the gentleman was inveighing against the practices of certain get-rich-quick houses in the street.

"The firm you mention," he dictated in the course of his epistle, "have an office in an uptown hotel, but I do not consider their business legitimate. I have never had either liking or respect for bucket shops. With personal regards, I am yours very truly," he finished.

"Now you can sign that, Miss Fudge, and mail it, for I've got to leave at once." And Miss Fudge did.

The next day the boss glanced over the letter-copying book and tore his hair when he read, "I have never had either liking or respect for bucket slops." And Miss Fudge put on her hat.

The next stenographer was a young man. The boss dictated: "The deceased left neither bonds nor stocks." Any writer of stenographic pothooks knows that the word "bonds" is written almost exactly like the word which is sometimes used for "trousers." Hence the man stenographer's transcription: "The deceased left neither pants nor socks."

And the man secretary put on his hat.

LUNCH CHILDREN WILL LIKE

How Midday Meal Should Be Packed to Be Kept Warm and Appetizing.

Mothers living too far from the schoolhouse for the children to come home to lunch will find this a solution of the cold lunch problem: Use a box about 15 inches square, inside measurement; pack a three-inch layer of excelsior very solidly in the bottom, then put a tin or agate pail having a very tight cover on this. Pack excelsior solidly around this to the top of the pail. It is very important to have it solid, as the pail must be taken out. A cover must be made to fit the box and this, too, covered for three inches or enough to reach the pail with the excelsior, held in place with cheesecloth or other light fabric tacked securely over it. For the box make a cover of linen or dark canvas. This cover should extend all over the box and hook on side. For the lunch boil in the pail rice, beans, soup, or whatever you may choose that can be boiled. When nearly done, cover closely and put at once in the box; put the cover on the box and it is ready and will be done and hot when the children are ready for it, hours later. Of course, if a tin pail is used, nothing containing tomatoes should be chosen. This will be found of especial convenience to mothers living in the country, where children drive to school.

Art Treasures in Spain.

Spain is considered by art collectors a lucrative field and many interesting antiques are picked up here from time to time. Seville has numerous shops where antiquities are sold and where the old Spanish needlework may be purchased. This section of the country has so recently (comparatively speaking) been invaded by tourists that art buyers claim to find here many desirable things of which the more frequented countries have long since been almost sold out. Probably the old Spanish needlework and the wood carvings are the most characteristic finds, though the antique Spanish and the lustrous Moorish tiles are also much sought. Of course paintings are eagerly scanned and occasionally a Murillo school picture comes to sale.

Wood-Eaters.

Wood in a certain form is a common and constant article of food in all sections of Siberia where the Yakut lives.

North of Verchoyansk, except in a few sheltered valleys, there is little food, aside from that afforded by fish, than that furnished by the larch. The natives eat it, however, because they like it. Even in sections where fish may be had wood usually forms part of the native's evening meal, as the many cleanly stripped larch logs near every hut testify.

The natives strip off the thick layers immediately under the bark of a larch log, and, chopping it fine, mix it with snow. It is then boiled in a kettle. Sometimes a bit of fish roe is added, and in the southern sections cow's milk or butter.—Harper's Weekly.

Stumbled on Vein of Gold.

For seven pesos or about $2.55 a poor Chilean bought a few weeks ago the foundation of an old house in Putu near Constitucion, relates the New York Sun. As the man grubbed out the stones from the earth his attention was attracted to the yellow specks in one of them. He found it contained an extraordinarily large proportion of gold. He inquired as to whence the stones originally came and finally traced them to a hill in the vicinity. There he found in the slope a vein of gold-bearing rock, from a small portion of which in the course of a week's work he and a couple of friends extracted $75,000 worth of gold. A company has now been formed with a capital of $100,000 to open up the vein and determine its true value.

TAKES FUSS AT NOON, CURED NEXT DAY

"Fuss" Rheumatism Cure Causing Excitement Among Rheumatics—Rush for Remedy Results in Hundreds of Quick Cures.

As the readers of this paper already know, the tests of rheumatism remedies recently made, resulted in an overwhelming decision in favor of the Fuss Rheumatism Cure of Flint, Mich.

Following this announcement there has already been recorded a tremendous increase in the sales of "Fuss," and as a result, numerous cases of quick and surprising cures are daily coming to light.

In an interview by Mr. Enos Kingsley, the well known ladies' tailor of Flint, Mich. one of the many confirmed rheumatics who decided to try Fuss, he said: "Yes, I had rheumatism for many months. I was flat on my back, and my limbs were terribly swollen. I was helpless and could not sleep nights. I was one of those who heard cures it has brought about. I started to take Fuss at noon. I slept good that night. Though helpless before that, would you believe it, I was up next day for my meals and the day following I walked down town. I never saw or heard of anything like "Fuss." It has cured me. It is certainly wonderful."

One of the most exceptional things which this remedy does, is to give immediate relief. It contains no alcohol or other stimulants and contains no dangerous or harmful ingredients of any kind, being guaranteed under the national pure food and drugs act of June 30, 1906.

For sale by the Koch Pharmacy in Maryville and all leading druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of $1.00 or six bottles for $5.000. Fuss Remedy Co., Flint, Mich.

I honestly believe it is the best throat and lung medicine that is made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by the Orear-Henry Drug Co.

SHORT RESPITE OFFERED BEATTIE

Governor Mann Will Grant Thirty Days if He Will Confess.

PROPOSITION UNPRECEDENTED

Many Men and Women, Opposed to Capital Punishment, Plead for Commutation to Life Imprisonment.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21.—Governor Mann, approached by all sorts of influences to grant Henry Clay Beattie, the rich young wife slayer a short reprieve has made this grim proposal.

"If Beattie will make a full and frank confession, he can live until December 24, Christmas evening. If he does not, he shall be electrocuted at the time fixed. Let him decide for himself."

Beattie's lawyers informed him of the propposal and he said in reply:

"Give me time to think. Give me time. I would like to live 30 days longer. God knows what might happen in 30 days. I cannot decide now, it is too great a question.

Those who have been closest to him—apart from his relatives and lawyers—say they believe he would do anything for an added month of life. They expect that he will make the confession.

If he makes the confession and gets the 30 days' nothing can save him, because the confession will automatically remove any possible doubt that Governor Mann might have of his guilt—and the governor is convinced of it already. Beattie may figure that it would be foolish for that reason to admit his guilt. On the other hand he may consider that he might as well tell the truth, make the jurors who convicted him feel more comfortable and take what sweetness there may be in a month of life.

His aged father says: "If my boy makes any statement to the public before the end it will be greatly against my wishes and advice."

The old man has told intimates he hoped Henry would not be reprieved as long as he had to die within a short time. Mr. Beattie, Sr., is anxious to take his daughter, Hazel and his other son, Douglas, and forever leave the state where Henry disgraced the respected name he bore. There is universal sympathy for the gray-haired father, but none whatever for the boy.

Men and women opposed to capital punishment called on the governor and asked that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment, not on any question of guilt or innocence, but merely to "set a good example," as they put it, "against the barbarous custom of taking a life for a life." It is not likely Governor Mann will take any action on this plea.

PARLIAMENT ASKS EXPLANATION

Much Criticism Aroused in England Over Secrecy of Foreign Secretary's Dealings.

London, Nov. 21.—That England was on the point of going to war with Germany in support of France in the Moroccan trouble, being now generally admitted, and it being generally known now that the government had apparently consented to Russia's advance on Persia, criticism has arisen over the secrecy with which the nation's foreign affairs are conducted, particularly since Sir Edward Grey became foreign secretary. Sir Edward has promised to make to parliament November 27 a statement of the nation's foreign relations.

The agitation crystalized into a demand that both parliament and the country should immediately be given explicit information regarding the government's recent foreign dealings.

The revelation in the German Reichstag of the intensity of Germany's feeling against England was a surprise.

Killed by a Striker.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 21.—Following an argument about trouble between strikers and strikebreakers, J. L. Jones, a striking carman, stabbed and killed A. M. Mackey, owner of a taxicab and carriage line here. Mackey's right hand was almost severed in an effort to ward off the blows.

Wilbur H. Hill is Dead.

Burlington, Ia., Nov. 21.—Wilbur H. Hill, 42 years old, nephew of J. J. Hill, chairman of the board of the Great Northern and assistant to Darius Miller, president of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, died of pneumonia at Mercy hospital here.

Canada Regrets Its Action.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—According to J. A. MacDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, and an active member of the Liberal party, Canada, is sorry it rejected reciprocity. Mr. MacDonald so declared in his address before the Sunday Evening club here.

Seeks Two Conventions.

St. Louis, Nov. 21.—St. Louis has begun a determined campaign to land both the Republican and Democratic national convention.

THE LAST QUARREL A TRADEGY

FORCED MARRIAGE ENDS IN DEATH FOR BOTH PARTIES.

Missouri Man Kills Wife and Himself Over Question of Building a Fire.

Nevada, Mo., Nov. 21.—A forced marriage 12 years ago has now ended in the murder of Mrs. O. C. Allison and the suicide of her husband, at their home near Walker, Mo. Five small children are left orphans by the tragedy.

A quarrel, the last of a series of disagreements strung out over their married life, led up to the murder and suicide. It was the question of whether a fire should or should not be built. Allison desired to build a fire in the grate. Mrs. Allison said he should not and said if he built it she would leave him.

Allison started to build the fire in the grate and Mrs. Allison left the house and ran toward the home of a neighbor. Allison ran after her, caught her and dragged her back to the house. There was a struggle and Allison snatched up a revolver and sent a bullet into his wife's temple. Then, in the effort to end his own life, he fired three bullets into his own head.

The children ran crying to the home of neighbors and told them of the tragedy. When neighbors arrived both Mrs. Allison and her husband still were alive. She died within an hour, however, and her husband died several hours later.

Allison and Mrs. Allison were members of families widely known in Walker. Much of the trouble between them, it is said there, was due to attempts of Allison's relatives to persuade him to leave the woman he was forced to marry. Apparently, however, he loved his wife, but their frequent quarrels, because of outside interference, unbalanced him and led up to the tragedy.

FIRST BID ON BONDS RECEIVED

Advertising Missouri's Capitol Issue Brings But One Response So Far.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—The first and only bid received by the board of fund commissioners so far upon the capitol bonds came from the Bank of Ava in Douglas county. The fund commission, of which Gov. Hadley, Treasurer Cowgill, Auditor Gordon and Attorney General Major are members, will open the bids December 1, at noon.

A number of inquiries about the bonds have been received, but no bids have been mailed except that from the Bank of Ava.

It is believed, however, that large banking and bonding concerns will have their representatives in person with bids December 1, which is the custom usually followed. The bonds must sell at par or above. They draw 3½ per cent interest.

LUMBER MEN ARE NOT IN HURRY

Ask Attorney General for Postponement of Time for Taking Testimony.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—Attorney General Major received a request from John H. Lucas of Kansas City, general attorney for the 38 lumber companies that are being prosecuted in the supreme court for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws, asking that the taking of testimony on behalf of the companies be postponed from December 1 to December 18. The attorney general, in view of the large array of attorneys employed by the companies, is not disposed to grant delay. The state already has closed its case, so far as the taking of testimony is concerned.

Harvester Rehearing Asked.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—Quoting Colonel Roosevelt's recent declaration for a "square deal" for both the corporations and the public, the International Harvester company filed in the supreme court of Missouri a motion for a rehearing in the recent case in which it was conditionally ousted from the state and fined $50,000 on charges of violating the state anti-trust law.

Must Dine "Dry."

Pittsburg, Kan., Nov. 21.—The lawyers of Crawford county will have their annual dinner in Pittsburg and have it "dry," or take a long chance with the office of the assistant attorney general. The Crawford County Bar Association had considered dining at Joplin, where there was no prohibitory law to interfere with the menu.

WAS REAL TO CHILD'S EYES

Life-Sized Model of Dog Brought Joy Into Life of Little New Yorker.

In front of a shop on Fifth avenue, New York, there stands for purposes of advertisement a life-sized model of a little dog. To adult eyes it bears but slight resemblance to a living bow-wow, but to the little girl who caught sight of it one day this week for the first time it was a creature of life and real personality.

Regardless of white corduroy coat and dusty pavement, she dropped on her knees beside the dog and gazed in rapture. After a breathless moment she put out her hand timidly, then drew it back and looked up at her mother.

"Will he bite?" she queried. Then, as her mother shook her head, she stretched out both hands an patted the dog's head. He didn't move, and she went on petting him, blissfully. Then she put her chubby arms about him, and gave him a joyous little-girl hug, and, straightening her small corduroy-coated person once more, she blithely stroked the dog's right ear.

"I'se got to go," she murmured, "muvver says. But I'se comin' back."

She looked up at her mother happily. Not once did it occur to her to doubt the model's reality.

"He's so fweet," she gurgled. "I fink he's got the fweetest character of any doggie I ever did see."

Ruskin as a Grocer.

Ruskin was once a grocer. In 1874 he opened a shop in Paddington street, Notting Hill, in order, as he announced, "to supply the poor with pure tea in packets as small as they choose to buy, without making a profit on the subdivision, larger orders being, of course, equally acceptable from anybody who cares to promote honest dealing." The shop did not attract, Ruskin complained in "Fors Clavigera" that "the poor only like to buy their tea where it is brilliantly lighted and eloquently ticketed; and as I resolutely refuse to compete with my neighboring tradesmen, either in gas or rhetoric, the patient subdivision of my parcels passes little recognized as an advantage by my uncalculating public." The shop soon closed down, and the grocery trade lost the most distinguished representative it is ever likely to possess.—London Chronicle.

CONFIDENCE.

We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do much harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.

Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy involved the labor of skilful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best of the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, your money will be refunded. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c., 25c., and 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Orear-Henry Drug Co., 113 North Main Street.

QUEUE COSTLY TO CHINESE

Figures Show How Much Money Would Be Saved If It Should Be Abolished.

The present movement in China for the abolition of the queue is encouraging the statisticians to show the Chinese what a saving it will be to them. It seems the combing and braiding of the queue takes every day fifteen minutes of the best hours of every man in China, and perhaps twice that much of the barber's time. Although time is cheap in China, it is worth on the average at least 5 pence a day, and so every man's queue costs him about a half penny a day. Multiply this by the number of males above 15 in the country—say 100,000,000—and by the number of days in the year, and you get about £73,000,000. Besides this cash value of time saved the actual cost of the material used must also be taken into account. A moderte estimate of the sum spent every year by each individual on queue cords, etc., is £4,000,000 per annum for the whole country. It is also reckoned that the queue shortens the life of a man's coat or gown by about one-tenth, and another £4,000,000 would be saved on this head. There would be other economies, too; but these alone would mean a saving of £81,000,000 a year. It seems the wearing of the queue is quite a modern thing. It was insisted on in 1644 by the Manchu conquerors, and was resisted to the death by many Chinese patriots. Just as many now, probably, would resist its abolition.

UP TO SANTA TO MAKE GOOD

One Cleveland Youngster Is Out This Year With a Demand to Be "Shown."

David Monroe, son of A. F. Monroe, of Lakewood, fails to enthuse when his young playmates speculate upon some such mode of conduct as shall insure a visit, come Christmas, of Santa Claus. He is not exactly sophisticated, but his illusions anent the German saint have been rudely dispelled.

Giving vent to his disappointment, last year, over what to his childish mind seemed a slight in the number of his presents, his father handed him a bright half-dollar, bidding him put it in his stocking and await results. "Maybe he'll come back," was his advice.

In the morning David found, in place of the coin, two peanuts. Which was not calculated to restore his disappointment.

"Pop," he asked, "what do you suppose became of that half dollar?"

"Why," said the elder Monroe, shamelessly, "I suppose Santa took it."

"Huh!" replied the kid. "Half a dollar for two peanuts! No wonder Raymond Stotter says Santa Claus is an old fraud!"

It's up to Santa to redeem himself this year.—Cleveland Leader.

Fashions In Dogs.

The fashion in dogs, says a sporting magazine, has always been as changeable as the fashions in women's dress—which is saying a great deal for the instability of man's canine tastes. The craze for something new has displaced all the old-time pets which found favor with both doggy men and women, and the "novelties" have one by one shared the same fate. If you glance through the catalog of a dog show at the present time you will find that most of the animals are foreigners, more remarkable for their physical oddities than either beauty, intelligence or usefulness. Pet dogs are like orchids, as regards fancy prices paid for rare specimens, and these highly priced pets, which today cost $500, will presently be selling at $5 apiece. The supply for these fashionable dogs soon exceeds the demand, and then comes the inevitable "slump." I am led into these remarks by hearing a lady deplore the fall in Pekinese toy spaniels. She gave $750, she says, for a pair, and now they would not realise more than $25. Courtesy forbids my making any comment upon this result.

Ty Cobb's Correspondence.

Ty Cobb, Detroit's star player, gets as much mail every day as a member of congress, according to the Popular Magazine. Letters come to him from girls who admire his style of beauty, from boys who study his style of batting, and from seasoned "fans." If he attempted to answer them all his batting arm would soon be a wreck.

One morning, in Chicago, he was examining his mail. Out of the 50-odd communications before him he took one.

"This letter," he said, "is the only one that gets a rise out of me. I'm going to write to this old fellow."

He passed the letter to a friend, who read:

"Dere Marster Cobb—How you kumin 'long? My rispecks to Madom Cobb. Pleas, sir, rite me a line. Dese niggers down here in Misisip! says I don't know you and I wants to show dem yore letter. Yores rispeckful, Making Money Rapidly.

A French newspaper has been calculating what various champions gain by the hour or by the mile. The gains of Andre Beaumont, the aviator, work out at almost $37 a mile. He cannot compare with the winner of the Grand Prix at Longchamps, As d'Atout, who won money at the rate of $24,000 a minute, or $38,400 a mile.

Automobile driving in 1905 paid a winner, Thery, at the rate of $58 a mile, or $3,857 an hour. The chief bicycle prize of France pays about $1,066 a mile, or from $200 to $400 a minute, but the tour of France for bicycles, wherein men have just cycled more than 3,000 miles around France during the hot wave, only pays 65 cents a mile.

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the house should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kan., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it in your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a trial bottle free of charge.

Address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

A STEADY purpose in this life is one of the best aids to success. If that purpose be the resolve to save money your success will be sure and satisfactory.

A young man should anchor himself to a bank account as the first step to success. As his account grows so will HIS CONFIDENCE IN HIMSELF TO MAKE GOOD.

"TAR PARTY" TRIAL BEGINS

Members of the Crowd Testify as to Details of Outrage.

VICTIM NOT PLACED ON STAND

Three Boys Who Were Implicated Told of Part They Took—Two Thousand People Crowd Courtroom.

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 21.—Instead of Mary Chamberlain, the complainant in the Shady Bend tar party case, the first witnesses heard in the trial of Sherrill Clark, John Schmidt and A. N. Simms, accused of being accessories in the tarring were Chester Anderson, Alfa Lindermuth and Delbert Kindlesparger, three Beverly boys who drove together to the scene of the tarring of Miss Chamberlain in a buggy belonging to Anderson's father.

The testimony of all three coincided substantially and a vivid picture of the transactions of the whole day from the time Evertt G. Clark, or one of his employes in the Shady Bend mill, is declared to have first broached the waylaying of the girl to the time the masked party dragged her from her seat and rubbed tar upon her naked body, was given.

Chester Anderson testified how he had enlisted the aid of Ricord, the barber decoy and confessed to making up, with Kindlesparger, the brace of "highwaymen" who held up the rig in which Ricord had driven the victim to the rendezvous Lindermuth had gone along and viewed the proceedings from behind a friendly hedge. None of the three identified any of the defendants in the present case, positively as taking part, in any of the proceedings which led up to the crime. Two thousand people lined the court all day anxious to hear Miss Chamberlain's testimony. Hundreds crouched in front of the regular seats for the spectators, scores more overflowed into the arena, and one old gentleman found a seat on the steps of Judge Grover's dais.

By the court's order, all minors were excluded, and the jury was committed to the care of a special bailiff until the case is decided.

County Attorney McCandless opened the case for the prosecution, and said in part:

"It becomes the duty of the prosecution at this time to impress you with a clear statement of the facts in this case, together with the evidence upon which the state of Kansas hopes you will find these three defendants guilty under the information I have just read.

"The state will show, first that a plot, scheme and plan was entered into by the defendants in this case for the purpose of assaulting one Mary Chamberlain.

"Second, where and how it was carried into effect.

"It will show how many of these men have already been found guilty of taking part in this crime, and how these defendants were the very men who went on Ricord's bond, but gave him up when they learned he had told the county attorney of their part in the affair."

MOTOR ACCIDENT INJURES SIX

Paola People Hurt in First Occurrence of its Kind in Miami County.

Paola, Kan., Nov. 21.—The first serious motor car accident to happen in Miami county occurred about ten miles south of town when a car containing Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas and two children and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Thompson and child, went into a ditch and turned over. Mr. Lucas was badly bruised. Mrs. Lucas' jaw was broken and her head injured. The two Lucas children were injured, one seriously.

Mr. Thompson's arm was broken and chest crushed. Mrs. Thompson's shoulder was mashed. The Thompson child was the only one to escape injury.

Arrested for Hauling Liquor.

Independence, Kan., Nov. 21.—Violators of the liquor law here were shocked when the steward of the Eagles and the driver of a dray who was hauling beer to the lodge were arrested and the load confiscated. A new ordinance recently went into effect which places a penalty on the hauling of liquor.

Robbed as He Preached.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 21.—While the Rev. Dudley M. Claggett was preaching his regular sermon at Westminster Presbyterian church here the parsonage nearby was ransacked by burglars. Two suits of the clergyman's clothes and a lot of jewelry were taken.

Ends Life to Escape Scandal.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 21.—Clyde Baldwin, young and wealthy, of Atlanta, Kan., committed suicide when he learned the officers were after him with a warrant charging him with being too intimate with a young woman of the neighborhood.

FOR ANNUAL RIVER APPROPRIATION

Representative Gallagher Favors Two Million a Year for Ten Years.

INSPECTING WORK ALREADY DONE

Says He Will Support Measure to Provide Money for Missouri Improvement Work—Borland to Introduce Bill.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—Representative Thomas Gallagher of Chicago, a member of the rivers and harbors committee, favors a continuing appropriation of $2,000,000 annually for ten years for the improvement of the Missouri river for the purpose of navigation.

Mr. Gallagher and party just arrived here for an inspection of that part of the Missouri river between Kansas City and the mouth of the Gasconade, where the government expended $1,000,000 a number of years ago in revetment work. This was permanent in character and the river along this stretch of 40 miles is navigable at any season of the year.

Hugh Stephens, president of the Jefferson City Commercial club; Mayor Cecil Thomas and Representative Dorsey W. Shackleford and other Jefferson Citians, met the party at the train and took them by motor car to the western limits of the city, where the Lieutenant Augustin, a government boat, was awaiting them. Representative Gallagher and the members of the inspection party went up the river to Murray's Bend, a point a few miles west of Jefferson City, then returned and will go down the river to the mouth of the Gasconade to inspect that section of the river.

"The Missouri river has plenty of water for the purpose of navigation," said Mr. Gallagher, "and all that is needed is to control it. I am in favor of and will support a measure providing for an annual appropriation of $2,000,000 for the improvement of the Missouri river. I believe one of the Missouri congressmen, probably Mr. Borland, will introduce such a bill. I think the Missouri is entitled to as much consideration as the Ohio, and I am willing to do my part to see that it gets it."

Representative Borland says congress will be asked to give the Missouri river a continuing appropriation, and he is confident of landing it.

"I have found that of the entire amount of money set for the purpose of river and harbor improvement, fully 83 per cent is expended east of the Ohio river. That leaves only 17 per cent for the Missouri and Mississippi Valley and on west to the Pacific Coast.

"The cost of the two dreadnaughts will improve the Missouri river from its mouth to Kansas City and make it navigable every day in the year that it is clear of ice, and the people of this and other states interested should keep up the fight," he said.

JAUREZ HEARS SOUND OF BATTLE

Maderists Celebrating Cause Much Alarm Over Supposed Revolutionist Attack.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 21.—What was supposed at first to have been an attack on Juarez by Reyistas proved upon investigation to be the celebration by Maderistas of the anniversary of the beginning of the Madero revolution. The principal feature of the demonstration was the discharge of firearms, which gave rise to the report that followers of General Reyes were attacking Juarez.

The firing of the celebrants lasted an hour or more, the number of shots fired being estimated at 1,000. El Pasoans were aroused from their slumbers and flocked to the bridges to witness if possible what they felt sure was a battle.

This impression was deepened by the knowledge that the Jaurez garrison has been on the alert for sudden developments in connection with reports of revolutionary activities in which the name of General Reyes, now under arrest by the United States government, has been particularly connected.

Film Shows Must Be Safe.

Topeka, Nov. 21.—Gov. Stubbs and Owen Doyle, state labor commissioner, have started after the moving picture shows and will prosecute managers who fail to comply with the state law. The governor has learned that two exits do not mean two doors one on either side of the ticket window, but one exit there and another in some other part of the building. Many picture shows have the two exits at the front but none elsewhere.

THE OWLS BANQUET

WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Lodge Instituted Here Last March and Now Has 288 Members, With Forty-Two Applications In.

One of the biggest and most successful banquets given in Maryville was the banquet given Monday night in the armory hall by the Owls to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the order. And it is doubtful whether a banquet was ever given in the city that had such a menu as that given Monday night. It consisted of roast pig and apples, baked possum, friend and stewed rabbit, baked and fried chicken, roast duck sandwiches, salad, celery, olives, sweet pickles, coffee and cigars.

After the dinner was over, George B. Baker, as toastmaster called the diners to order. Toasts were given by Mayor Arthur S. Robey, W. E. Wiles, Charles McCaffrey, Frank Bolin, J. F. Hull, O. K. Herndon and Lawrence Schumacher.

The Owls lodge was instituted in Maryville last March, and now has a membership of 288. Forty-two new applications for membership were received Monday night. It certainly has grown some for the short time it has been here.

The committee in charge of the banquet Monday was composed of Clyde Avitt, M. Nusbaum, Roy Yeaman, John Wallace, William Hansen and Roy Martin. They were assisted by a number of members of the Owls.

TIGERS WON GAME.

Victors Over Giants in Normal Basket ball Tournament.

Standing of Teams.

	P.	W.	L.	P.ct
Tigers	15	10	5	.666
Athletics	16	10	6	.625
Dodgers	16	8	8	.500
Dwarfs	15	5	10	.333
Giants	16	5	11	.312

Captain Mitchell and his "Royal Bengals" romped away with the large end of a 24 to 12 score Monday night in the semi-final round of the Normal basket ball tournament. Their victims were the lowly Giants. The Tigers have but to beat the Dwarfs to win the pennant. But the leaders will find that to be a mill stone in the pennant path for the Dwarfs are going good now, and they are scrapping hard to keep out of the cellar.

Should the Dwarfs give the leaders a setback that would mean a tie between the Tigers and the Athletics, and eventually a post-season game or series of games to decide the race.

In last night's game the Giants put up a good scrap the first half, that period ending with the Bengals but two points to the good. However, in the second half the Tigers came back like a whirlwind and played the Giants off their feet. The outcome of the agony was 24 to 12. Nixon, the Tigers' center, was the star of the game. The big center scored five goals from the field, and, furthermore, he was in every play. Taylor set an excellent example for his teammates by getting three difficult field goals, but his hard work was in vain. The gritty little captain deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which he has fought every game to the finish, though his team has occupied a cellar position during most of the tournament.

The line-up of the Tiger-Giant game:

Tigers—Mitchell and Carpenter, forwards; Nixon, center; R. Miller and Holmes, guards.

Giants—Price and Taylor, forwards; Powell, center; V. Seymour and Hanna, guards.

Summary—Field goals, Carpenter 2, Mitchell 4, Nixon 5, Taylor 3, Price 2. Free throws, Carpenter 2, Seymour 2.

In the Dwarf-Athletics game the shining light was Daise, the Dwarfs' left forward. He gathered in four field goals and a free throw for a total of 9 points of the Dwarfs' 14. The Dwarfs led until the last few minutes of play, when the Athletics nosed them out and won. Score, 15 to 14. The Athletics' only hope now is for the Dwarfs to defeat the Tigers, which would give Perrin's men a chance at the Bengals for the pennant. The deciding game will be played at the Normal gymnasium Tuesday afternoon at 4:15. The Dwarfs-Athletics game:

Dwarfs—Dunshee and Daise, forwards; McClintock, center; F. Miller and Bright, guards.

Athletics—Allen and Strader, forwards; Perrin, center; Simpson and Cook, guards.

Summary—Fields goals, Dunshee 1, Daise 4, McClintock 1, Allen 2, Strader -, Perrin 1. Free throws, Daise 1, Dunshee 1, Perrin 7.

Referee—V. I. Moore. Scorer, D. Parman.

Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles of Fillmore returned home Monday evening from a visit with Mrs. Miles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Pierpoint. Mrs. Miles had been here since Thursday and Dr. Miles came Saturday night to accompany her home.

THE BOYS ARE SHY

1911 MARRIAGE LICENSE RECORD FAR BELOW THAT OF 1910.

NEXT YEAR IS LEAP YEAR

County Recorder Expects Business to Pick Up After January First—Only 225 Licenses Issued.

This year's record is going to fall behind that of last year in the marriage license line unless "popping the question" becomes epidemic in Nodaway county within the next few days. The year 1911 opened up rather well, but there has been a slump since the drouth.

Thus far this year there have been 225 marriage licenses issued. During the year 1910 there were 268, there being 38 in December.

Up to Tuesday there had been 18 marriage licenses issued during the first twenty days in November, while last year there were only 17 issued during the whole month. October had 26 marriage licenses issued as compared with 29 during the same period last year.

Recorder J. Arthur Wray thinks that this year's total will come up to last year's. He says that during December there are always a large number of marriage licenses issued, and that now December is the real marrying month instead of June. During December last year there were more licenses issued than for any other month that year.

Recorder Wray is not worrying much on this year's marriage record on account of the fact that 1912 is leap year.

TO PLAY SKIDMORE.

Normal to Meet That Team on Thursday Night at Gymnasium.

Coach Moore has completed the arrangement for a basket ball game Thursday night, November 23, with the Skidmore Teddy Bears, to be played at the Normal gymnasium. The Teddy Bear team is an independent team, composed of former college and high school stars living in the vicinity of Skidmore, and they have an excellent team. Since the Normals' defeat of Tarkio high school last Thursday the boys feel as though they could mop up on any aggregation in this neck of the woods.

The squad is practicing every night with the second team, and the men are rapidly developing team work, which was sadly missing in the Tarkio game. The team will appear in their new uniforms Thursday night. The jerseys are solid green with a white six-inch N. N. monogram.

Dante's "Inferno."

The possibilities of the moving picture and its wider field of usefulness have never been illustrated more forcibly than in the reproduction of Dante's "Inferno." This wonderful creation was presented, with lecture, at the Empire theater Monday night, and will again be shown tonight. The picture has features possessed by no other similar attraction, and does indeed mark a new era in the history of cinematography.

PETITIONS WILL BE CIRCULATED ASKING FOR SPECIAL ELECTION.

ORGANIZATION FORMED

Largely Attended Meeting at M. E. Church Took Steps Toward Making Maryville Dry.

Local option is to be voted on in Maryville within the next few months, so it was decided at the meeting held Monday night at the First M. E. church. The meeting was largely attended and was composed mostly of prominent church people, who are back of the movement to have the question submitted.

It was decided to commence at once getting signers to the petition asking the city council to call a special election to vote on the proposition. As all that is required is that the petition asking the council for the special election must have 10 per cent of the qualified legal voters of the city, and if there are that many to the petition the council will have to set aside a day when the people will vote on the question. The petition will be circulated, commencing Wednesday, and it is thought that it will only take a few days to get the necessary signers. It will then be presented to the council at their next regular night, which is on Friday night, December 8. Then a day will be set aside by the council, probably the latter part of January of next year.

An organization was perfected at the meeting held Monday. S. G. Gillam was elected president, Judge J. H. Sayler secretary and J. Arthur Wray treasurer. The committees will be appointed at the meeting to be held Thursday night.

A local option election was held in Maryville on September 12, 1907, at which time there were a majority of 199 votes cast against local option. On the same day the election was held in the county, and it carried by over 600 majority.

Since Maryville is the only saloon town in this part of the state, a determined effort will be made by both the "drys" and the "wets" to win. The sentiment here, it is believed, has changed from what it was four years ago, and it looks as if the "drys" have a chance to win.

It will only take about 100 signers to the petition for the council to call the election. Many more than this number will be secured.

One feature that will enter into the campaign will be how Maryville is to make up the revenue she now receives from the two saloons here. The license is $4,200 for each saloon, or a total revenue of $8,400 is received by the city from both. This is the highest license known that any saloons pay to a city.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Kennedy and little daughter of Forest City, Ill., and Mrs. Olin White of Jamesport, Mo., are guests of their aunt, Mrs. Mary White, and her daughter, Miss Laura White, of South Buchanan street, and will also visit the families of their cousins, John C. and W. THE EVIL OF IDLE GOSSIP.

It is one of the foibles of humanity to believe and carry evil report. It may be one manifestation of the selfishness of the race, for a wise man who lived centuries ago said that "Love thinketh no evil." The wagging tongue is a dangerous weapon and a two-edged one, since it brings woe to its owner as well as its victim. Idle gossip breeds many kinds of ill consequences, yet how common a fault it is with most of us.

The law sets us a good example in presuming every man arraigned for wrong to be innocent until proven guilty, and it gives him the benefit of every doubt, convicting him only upon the most conclusive evidence. No individuals in their private social intercourse should prefer to believe good of each other rather than evil. They could do well to adopt the maxim of of law either of the Pauline doctrine of thinking no evil, or the modern statute of holding every man innocent until proved guilty.

Such a precedent put in practice would tend to offset the evil of idle gossip. It is always possible to hear bad things of good men, but no good can come of repeating them. The Mosaic code set the example by forbidding "false witness against thy neighbor," and in this it has never been improved upon.—Jefferson City Democrat.

NO CONVICT LABOR.

Congressman Booher's Bill Will Eliminate Undesirable Feature.

The laboring people are perhaps not familiar with the bill that Congressman Charles F. Booher of this district introduced in congress at the last session, and which will come up at the regular session next month for passage. This bill deals with convict labor, and is now in the hands of the committee on labor, to which it was referred. The bill, H. R. No. 5601, is as follows:

A bill—To limit the effect of the regulation of interstate commerce between the states in goods, wares and merchandise wholly or in part manufactured by convict labor or in any prison or reformatory.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled. That all goods, wares and merchandise, manufactured wholly or in part by convict labor, or in prison or reformatory, transported into any state or territory or remaining therein for use, consumption, sale or storage, shall upon arrival, and delivery in such state or territory, be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of such state or territory to the same extent and in the same manner as though such goods, wares and merchandise had been manufactured in such state of territory, and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced in original packages or otherwise.—Atchison County Mail.

A Few Applications of Simple Remedy Restores the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that nature needs assistance. It is nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agents, Koch Pharmacy.

IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION.

Mrs. Roscoe Tilson, Who Attempted Suicide, Taken to Hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. Roscoe Tilson, who attempted suicide at her home on East First street Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, was taken to St. Francis hospital Tuesday afternoon for treatment. Her physicians, Drs. F. M. and C. V. Martin, regard her condition as critical.

The Tilson family lives in a part of the residence occupied by L. H. Hill and family, the Shelton place, east of the hospital. Mrs. Tilson took fourteen grains of bi-chloride of mercury about 3 o'clock and then told Mrs. Hill what she had done, and was taken ill immediately. Mrs. Hill called the Drs. Martin and they arrived soon after Mrs. Tilson took the medicine, and the antidotes administered soon gave relief, but the patient is in a critical condition.

Mrs. Tilson gave no reason for her act. She is a young woman in the early twenties, and her husband, also a young man, is a brother of Sheriff W. R. Tilson and John L. Tilson. They have a small son, 2 or 3 years old. They came here recently from Montana. Mr. Tilson is employed by a telephone company.

TO COME TO MARYVILLE.

Fine Stock Here to Be Judged by M. S. U. Students.

Eight students at the animal husbandry department of the state university at Columbia, accompanied by Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, the head of the department, will arrive in Maryville Thursday and will be the guests of J. F. Roelofson and Bellows Bros. They will inspect Roelofson's stock of Percheron and standard horses, and will judge the Bellows Bros.' famous herd of Shorthorn cattle.

The students constitute the most successful amateur animal judges in the department. The university will send a delegation to compete in the student scoring contest at the International Live Stock fair, which will open in Chicago the first of next month. In the meantime they are visiting stock farms, practicing scoring.

Fundamental vs. Frills.

Mrs. Champ Clark, who registered in the "visitors' book" of a Kansas City school as "wife of a servant," because her famous husband is a servant of the Missouri people, has declared in favor of a thorough schooling in the "Three Rs" as the best preparation for further schooling or even for the school of life. The drill (to the point of mastery) which the old-time country school gave in fundamentals had a value not equaled by the "frills" of modern school study courses. "This simple illustration," she is quoted as saying, "may serve to show the general advantages possessed by the country woman; she can come to the city and learn not to blow out the gas, while a city woman can't go to the country and find her way through the woods alone. In other words, women of the country possess self-reliance and adaptability, and they are among the most important things in life."

Funeral Services Wednesday.

For New Parliament Building.

The contract has been let for an addition to the British parliament building at Victoria, to cost $1,000,000, practically doubling the size of the building. Work is to be commenced immediately and rushed with all possible speed, as the present offices are so congested that clerks and officers are badly cramped to carry on the details of the provincial government. The building is to be erected of British Columbia stone, same as original structure, and be fully up to all modern improvements. It is expected that when the building is completed and furnished and the grounds laid out in landscape the total outlay may reach $1,250,000 and that British Columbia will have the finest parliament buildings in Canada.

Women Mountain Climbers.

Miss Mary Vail of Paris, France, and Miss Cornish of Boston have climbed 15 of the smaller peaks of the Swiss mountains and many of the higher of the Appalachian range, and this summer camped on Mount Kahtahdin, they being the first women who have ever made the ascent. They are perfectly at home in the rough camps and on the mountain trail, for which they wear the proper costumes.

Stirred Up!

"Our whole neighborhood has been stirred up," said the regular reader.

"Plowing," said the farmer.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy.

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

SOME HOPEFUL HINTS.

Here Are a Few Suggestions That May Be of Some Help.

Some hopeful hints for the husbands have just been compiled by one unmarried man, and it might be well to publish them for the benefit of the men of Maryville. They are as follows:

When you bring your wife home a box of candy always eat it all up yourself. It will make her glad to see you enjoying yourself.

Don't ever listen to anything your wife is telling you. You might make her think you are her equal.

Always come into the house with a smile on your face. It will make your wife wonder in whose company you have been.

Never talk to your wife at the breakfast table. If you say nothing you can never be accused of saying sarcastic things.

Never commend the coffee. Your wife will be sure to imagine that she can try a cheaper grade and save some of her housekeeping money.

Let the children use all the slang they want to. By doing this you may pick up some forceful expressions yourself.

If you are going to be late for dinner, never take the trouble or time to telephone. The servant may quit, but your wife won't.

Give your wife a regular allowance, but borrow most of its back during the week. This will teach her economy and an economical wife is a husband's blessing.

Don't bother to lift your hat to your wife when you meet her in the street. Too much attention makes any woman vain.

Never let your wife know when you are going to bring a friend home to dinner. The illtle surprises are the spice of married life.

Never fail to remind your wife on her birthday how young and slender she looked the first time you saw her. Loving memories are honey to women's hungry hearts.

When your wife is telling a story to your guests, always be sure to interrupt her and finish it yourself. A true woman always appreciates a husband's aid.

Never go to church with your wife on Sunday morning. The oftener you go the oftener she will expect you to, and you might get the habit.

If your wife says she has a headache just laugh at her. There is nothing like laughter to lighten life's burdens.

Always believe everything your wife tells you, and by and by she may begin to believe some of the things you tell her.

Never explain where you have been when you have been out late at night. If you do it once you'll have to do it always.

Never forget to remove your collar as soon as you get home. An untidy husband excellently chastens an impatient wife.

Miss Ethel Everist, living west of Maryville, is a patient at St. Francis hospital from an attack of appendicitis, and is getting along nicely.

WOES OF THE BUSINESS MAN

Just a Sample of the Many Things That Turn His Raven Locks to Gray.

The new girl was taking dictation from the head of the firm, a Wall street broker. In the letter the gentleman was inveighing against the practices of certain get-rich-quick houses in the street.

"The firm you mention," he dictated in the course of his epistle, "have an office in an uptown hotel, but I do not consider their business legitimate. I have never had either liking or respect for bucket shops. With personal regards, I am yours very truly," he finished.

"Now you can sign that, Miss Fudge, and mail it, for I've got to leave at once." And Miss Fudge did.

The next day the boss glanced over the letter-copying book and tore his hair when he read, "I have never had either liking or respect for bucket slops." And Miss Fudge put on her hat.

The next stenographer was a young man. The boss dictated: "The deceased left neither bonds nor stocks." Any writer of stenographic pothooks knows that the word "bonds" is written almost exactly like the word which is sometimes used for "trousers." Hence the man stenographer's transcription: "The deceased left neither pants nor socks."

And the man secretary put on his hat.

LUNCH CHILDREN WILL LIKE

How Midday Meal Should Be Packed to Be Kept Warm and Appetizing.

Mothers living too far from the schoolhouse for the children to come home to lunch will find this a solution of the cold lunch problem: Use a box about 15 inches square, inside measurement; pack a three-inch layer of excelsior very solidly in the bottom, then put a tin or agate pail having a very tight cover on this. Pack excelsior solidly around this to the top of the pail. It is very important to have it solid, as the pail must be taken out. A cover must be made to fit the box and this, too, covered for three inches or enough to reach the pail with the excelsior, held in place with cheesecloth or other light fabric tacked securely over it. For the box make a cover of linen or dark canvas. This cover should extend all over the box and hook on side. For the lunch boil in the pail rice, beans, soup, or whatever you may choose that can be boiled. When nearly done, cover closely and put at once in the box; put the cover on the box and it is ready and will be done and hot when the children are ready for it, hours later. Of course, if a tin pail is used, nothing containing tomatoes should be chosen. This will be found of especial convenience to mothers living in the country, where children drive to school.

Art Treasures in Spain.

Spain is considered by art collectors a lucrative field and many interesting antiques are picked up here from time to time. Seville has numerous shops where antiquities are sold and where the old Spanish needlework may be purchased. This section of the country has so recently (comparatively speaking) been invaded by tourists that art buyers claim to find here many desirable things of which the more frequented countries have long since been almost sold out. Probably the old Spanish needlework and the wood carvings are the most characteristic finds, though the antique Spanish and the lustrous Moorish tiles are also much sought. Of course paintings are eagerly scanned and occasionally a Murillo school picture comes to sale.

Wood-Eaters.

Wood in a certain form is a common and constant article of food in all sections of Siberia where the Yakut lives.

North of Verchoyansk, except in a few sheltered valleys, there is little food, aside from that afforded by fish, than that furnished by the larch. The natives eat it, however, because they like it. Even in sections where fish may be had wood usually forms part of the native's evening meal, as the many cleanly stripped larch logs near every hut testify.

The natives strip off the thick layers immediately under the bark of a larch log, and, chopping it fine, mix it with snow. It is then boiled in a kettle. Sometimes a bit of fish roe is added, and in the southern sections cow's milk or butter.—Harper's Weekly.

Stumbled on Vein of Gold.

For seven pesos or about $2.55 a poor Chilean bought a few weeks ago the foundation of an old house in Putu near Constitucion, relates the New York Sun. As the man grubbed out the stones from the earth his attention was attracted to the yellow specks in one of them. He found it contained an extraordinarily large proportion of gold. He inquired as to whence the stones originally came and finally traced them to a hill in the vicinity. There he found in the slope a vein of gold-bearing rock, from a small portion of which in the course of a week's work he and a couple of friends extracted $75,000 worth of gold. A company has now been formed with a capital of $100,000 to open up the vein and determine its true value.

TAKES FUSS AT NOON, CURED NEXT DAY

"Fuss" Rheumatism Cure Causing Excitement Among Rheumatics—Rush for Remedy Results in Hundreds of Quick Cures.

As the readers of this paper already know, the tests of rheumatism remedies recently made, resulted in an overwhelming decision in favor of the Fuss Rheumatism Cure of Flint, Mich.

Following this announcement there has already been recorded a tremendous increase in the sales of "Fuss," and as a result, numerous cases of quick and surprising cures are daily coming to light.

In an interview by Mr. Enos Kingsley, the well known ladies' tailor of Flint, Mich. one of the many confirmed rheumatics who decided to try Fuss, he said: "Yes, I had rheumatism for many months. I was flat on my back, and my limbs were terribly swollen. I was helpless and could not sleep nights. I was one of those who heard cures it has brought about. I started to take Fuss at noon. I slept good that night. Though helpless before that, would you believe it, I was up next day for my meals and the day following I walked down town. I never saw or heard of anything like "Fuss." It has cured me. It is certainly wonderful."

One of the most exceptional things which this remedy does, is to give immediate relief. It contains no alcohol or other stimulants and contains no dangerous or harmful ingredients of any kind, being guaranteed under the national pure food and drugs act of June 30, 1906.

For sale by the Koch Pharmacy in Maryville and all leading druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of $1.00 or six bottles for $5.000. Fuss Remedy Co., Flint, Mich.

SHORT RESPITE OFFERED BEATTIE

Governor Mann Will Grant Thirty Days if He Will Confess.

PROPOSITION UNPRECEDENTED

Many Men and Women, Opposed to Capital Punishment, Plead for Commutation to Life Imprisonment.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21.—Governor Mann, approached by all sorts of influences to grant Henry Clay Beattie, the rich young wife slayer a short reprieve has made this grim proposal.

"If Beattie will make a full and frank confession, he can live until December 24, Christmas evening. If he does not, he shall be electrocuted at the time fixed. Let him decide for himself."

Beattie's lawyers informed him of the propposal and he said in reply:

"Give me time to think. Give me time. I would like to live 30 days longer. God knows what might happen in 30 days. I cannot decide now, it is too great a question.

Those who have been closest to him—apart from his relatives and lawyers—say they believe he would do anything for an added month of life. They expect that he will make the confession.

If he makes the confession and gets the 30 days' nothing can save him, because the confession will automatically remove any possible doubt that Governor Mann might have of his guilt—and the governor is convinced of it already. Beattie may figure that it would be foolish for that reason to admit his guilt. On the other hand he may consider that he might as well tell the truth, make the jurors who convicted him feel more comfortable and take what sweetness there may be in a month of life.

His aged father says: "If my boy makes any statement to the public before the end it will be greatly against my wishes and advice."

The old man has told intimates he hoped Henry would not be reprieved as long as he had to die within a short time. Mr. Beattie, Sr., is anxious to take his daughter, Hazel and his other son, Douglas, and forever leave the state where Henry disgraced the respected name he bore. There is universal sympathy for the gray-haired father, but none whatever for the boy.

Men and women opposed to capital punishment called on the governor and asked that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment, not on any question of guilt or innocence, but merely to "set a good example," as they put it, "against the barbarous custom of taking a life for a life." It is not likely Governor Mann will take any action on this plea.

PARLIAMENT ASKS EXPLANATION

Much Criticism Aroused in England Over Secrecy of Foreign Secretary's Dealings.

London, Nov. 21.—That England was on the point of going to war with Germany in support of France in the Moroccan trouble, being now generally admitted, and it being generally known now that the government had apparently consented to Russia's advance on Persia, criticism has arisen over the secrecy with which the nation's foreign affairs are conducted, particularly since Sir Edward Grey became foreign secretary. Sir Edward has promised to make to parliament November 27 a statement of the nation's foreign relations.

The agitation crystalized into a demand that both parliament and the country should immediately be given explicit information regarding the government's recent foreign dealings.

The revelation in the German Reichstag of the intensity of Germany's feeling against England was a surprise.

Killed by a Striker.

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 21.—Following an argument about trouble between strikers and strikebreakers, J. L. Jones, a striking carman, stabbed and killed A. M. Mackey, owner of a taxicab and carriage line here. Mackey's right hand was almost severed in an effort to ward off the blows.

THE LAST QUARREL A TRADEGY

FORCED MARRIAGE ENDS IN DEATH FOR BOTH PARTIES.

Missouri Man Kills Wife and Himself Over Question of Building a Fire.

Nevada, Mo., Nov. 21.—A forced marriage 12 years ago has now ended in the murder of Mrs. O. C. Allison and the suicide of her husband, at their home near Walker, Mo. Five small children are left orphans by the tragedy.

A quarrel, the last of a series of disagreements strung out over their married life, led up to the murder and suicide. It was the question of whether a fire should or should not be built. Allison desired to build a fire in the grate. Mrs. Allison said he should not and said if he built it she would leave him.

Allison started to build the fire in the grate and Mrs. Allison left the house and ran toward the home of a neighbor. Allison ran after her, caught her and dragged her back to the house. There was a struggle and Allison snatched up a revolver and sent a bullet into his wife's temple. Then, in the effort to end his own life, he fired three bullets into his own head.

The children ran crying to the home of neighbors and told them of the tragedy. When neighbors arrived both Mrs. Allison and her husband still were alive. She died within an hour, however, and her husband died several hours later.

Allison and Mrs. Allison were members of families widely known in Walker. Much of the trouble between them, it is said there, was due to attempts of Allison's relatives to persuade him to leave the woman he was forced to marry. Apparently, however, he loved his wife, but their frequent quarrels, because of outside interference, unbalanced him and led up to the tragedy.

FIRST BID ON BONDS RECEIVED

Advertising Missouri's Capitol Issue Brings But One Response So Far.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—The first and only bid received by the board of fund commissioners so far upon the capitol bonds came from the Bank of Ava in Douglas county. The fund commission, of which Gov. Hadley, Treasurer Cowgill, Auditor Gordon and Attorney General Major are members, will open the bids December 1, at noon.

A number of inquiries about the bonds have been received, but no bids have been mailed except that from the Bank of Ava.

It is believed, however, that large banking and bonding concerns will have their representatives in person with bids December 1, which is the custom usually followed. The bonds must sell at par or above. They draw 3½ per cent interest.

LUMBER MEN ARE NOT IN HURRY

Ask Attorney General for Postponement of Time for Taking Testimony.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—Attorney General Major received a request from John H. Lucas of Kansas City, general attorney for the 38 lumber companies that are being prosecuted in the supreme court for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws, asking that the taking of testimony on behalf of the companies be postponed from December 1 to December 18. The attorney general, in view of the large array of attorneys employed by the companies, is not disposed to grant delay. The state already has closed its case, so far as the taking of testimony is concerned.

Harvester Rehearing Asked.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—Quoting Colonel Roosevelt's recent declaration for a "square deal" for both the corporations and the public, the International Harvester company filed in the supreme court of Missouri a motion for a rehearing in the recent case in which it was conditionally ousted from the state and fined $50,000 on charges of violating the state anti-trust law.

Must Dine "Dry."

Pittsburg, Kan., Nov. 21.—The lawyers of Crawford county will have their annual dinner in Pittsburg and have it "dry," or take a long chance with the office of the assistant attorney general. The Crawford County Bar Association had considered dining at Joplin, where there was no prohibitory law to interfere with the menu.

WAS REAL TO CHILD'S EYES

Life-Sized Model of Dog Brought Joy Into Life of Little New Yorker.

In front of a shop on Fifth avenue, New York, there stands for purposes of advertisement a life-sized model of a little dog. To adult eyes it bears but slight resemblance to a living bow-wow, but to the little girl who caught sight of it one day this week for the first time it was a creature of life and real personality.

Regardless of white corduroy coat and dusty pavement, she dropped on her knees beside the dog and gazed in rapture. After a breathless moment she put out her hand timidly, then drew it back and looked up at her mother.

"Will he bite?" she queried. Then, as her mother shook her head, she stretched out both hands an patted the dog's head. He didn't move, and she went on petting him, blissfully. Then she put her chubby arms about him, and gave him a joyous little-girl hug, and, straightening her small corduroy-coated person once more, she blithely stroked the dog's right ear.

"I'se got to go," she murmured, "muvver says. But I'se comin' back."

She looked up at her mother happily. Not once did it occur to her to doubt the model's reality.

"He's so fweet," she gurgled. "I fink he's got the fweetest character of any doggie I ever did see."

Ruskin as a Grocer.

Ruskin was once a grocer. In 1874 he opened a shop in Paddington street, Notting Hill, in order, as he announced, "to supply the poor with pure tea in packets as small as they choose to buy, without making a profit on the subdivision, larger orders being, of course, equally acceptable from anybody who cares to promote honest dealing." The shop did not attract, Ruskin complained in "Fors Clavigera" that "the poor only like to buy their tea where it is brilliantly lighted and eloquently ticketed; and as I resolutely refuse to compete with my neighboring tradesmen, either in gas or rhetoric, the patient subdivision of my parcels passes little recognized as an advantage by my uncalculating public." The shop soon closed down, and the grocery trade lost the most distinguished representative it is ever likely to possess.—London Chronicle.

CONFIDENCE.

We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do much harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.

Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy involved the labor of skilful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best of the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, your money will be refunded. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c., 25c., and 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Orear-Henry Drug Co., 113 North Main Street.

QUEUE COSTLY TO CHINESE

Figures Show How Much Money Would Be Saved If It Should Be Abolished.

The present movement in China for the abolition of the queue is encouraging the statisticians to show the Chinese what a saving it will be to them. It seems the combing and braiding of the queue takes every day fifteen minutes of the best hours of every man in China, and perhaps twice that much of the barber's time. Although time is cheap in China, it is worth on the average at least 5 pence a day, and so every man's queue costs him about a half penny a day. Multiply this by the number of males above 15 in the country—say 100,000,000—and by the number of days in the year, and you get about £73,000,000. Besides this cash value of time saved the actual cost of the material used must also be taken into account. A moderte estimate of the sum spent every year by each individual on queue cords, etc., is £4,000,000 per annum for the whole country. It is also reckoned that the queue shortens the life of a man's coat or gown by about one-tenth, and another £4,000,000 would be saved on this head. There would be other economies, too; but these alone would mean a saving of £81,000,000 a year. It seems the wearing of the queue is quite a modern thing. It was insisted on in 1644 by the Manchu conquerors, and was resisted to the death by many Chinese patriots. Just as many now, probably, would resist its abolition.

One Cleveland Youngster Is Out This Year With a Demand to Be "Shown."

David Monroe, son of A. F. Monroe, of Lakewood, fails to enthuse when his young playmates speculate upon some such mode of conduct as shall insure a visit, come Christmas, of Santa Claus. He is not exactly sophisticated, but his illusions anent the German saint have been rudely dispelled.

Giving vent to his disappointment, last year, over what to his childish mind seemed a slight in the number of his presents, his father handed him a bright half-dollar, bidding him put it in his stocking and await results. "Maybe he'll come back," was his advice.

In the morning David found, in place of the coin, two peanuts. Which was not calculated to restore his disappointment.

"Pop," he asked, "what do you suppose became of that half dollar?"

"Why," said the elder Monroe, shamelessly, "I suppose Santa took it."

"Huh!" replied the kid. "Half a dollar for two peanuts! No wonder Raymond Stotter says Santa Claus is an old fraud!"

It's up to Santa to redeem himself this year.—Cleveland Leader.

Fashions In Dogs.

The fashion in dogs, says a sporting magazine, has always been as changeable as the fashions in women's dress—which is saying a great deal for the instability of man's canine tastes. The craze for something new has displaced all the old time pets which found favor with both doggy men and women, and the "novelties" have one by one shared the same fate. If you glance through the catalog of a dog show at the present time you will find that most of the animals are foreigners, more remarkable for their physical oddities than either beauty, intelligence or usefulness. Pet dogs are like orchids, as regards fancy prices paid for rare specimens, and these highly priced pets, which today cost $500, will presently be selling at $5 apiece. The supply for these fashionable dogs soon exceeds the demand, and then comes the inevitable "slump." I am led into these remarks by hearing a lady deplore the fall in Pekinese toy spaniels. She gave $750, she says, for a pair, and now they would not realize more than $25. Courtesy forbids my making any comment upon this result.

Ty Cobb's Correspondence.

Ty Cobb, Detroit's star player, gets as much mail every day as a member of congress, according to the Popular Magazine. Letters come to him from girls who admire his style of beauty, from boys who study his style of batting, and from seasoned "fans." If he attempted to answer them all his batting arm would soon be a wreck.

One morning, in Chicago, he was examining his mail. Out of the 50-odd communications before him he took one.

"This letter," he said, "is the only one that gets a rise out of me. I'm going to write to this old fellow."

He passed the letter to a friend, who read:

"Dere Marster Cobb—How you kumin 'long? My rispecks to Madom Cobb. Pleas, sir, rite me a line. Dese niggers down here in Misisip! says I don't know you and I wants to show dem yore letter. Yores rispeckful, BEN JACKSON."

Making Money Rapidly.

A French newspaper has been calculating what various champions gain by the hour or by the mile. The gains of Andre Beaumont, the aviator, work out at almost $37 a mile. He cannot compare with the winner of the Grand Prix at Longchamps, As d'Atout, who won money at the rate of $24,000 a minute, or $38,400 a mile.

Automobile driving in 1905 paid a winner, Thery, at the rate of $58 a mile, or $3,857 an hour. The chief bicycle prize of France pays about $1,066 a mile, or from $200 to $400 a minute, but the tour of France for bicycles, wherein men have just cycled more than 3,000 miles around France during the hot wave, only pays 65 cents a mile.

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the house should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kan., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it in your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a trial bottle free of charge.

Address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

"TAR PARTY" TRIAL BEGINS

Members of the Crowd Testify as to Details of Outrage.

VICTIM NOT PLACED ON STAND

Three Boys Who Were Implicated Told of Part They Took—Two Thousand People Crowd Courtroom.

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 21.—Instead of Mary Chamberlain, the complainant in the Shady Bend tar party case, the first witnesses heard in the trial of Sherrill Clark, John Schmidt and A. N. Simms, accused of being accessories in the tarring were Chester Anderson, Alfa Lindermuth and Delbert Kindlesparger, three Beverly boys who drove together to the scene of the tarring of Miss Chamberlain in a buggy belonging to Anderson's father.

The testimony of all three coincided substantially and a vivid picture of the transactions of the whole day from the time Evertt G. Clark, or one of his employes in the Shady Bend mill, is declared to have first broached the waylaying of the girl to the time the masked party dragged her from her seat and rubbed tar upon her naked body, was given.

Chester Anderson testified how he had enlisted the aid of Ricord, the barber decoy and confessed to making up, with Kindlesparger, the brace of "highwaymen" who held up the rig in which Ricord had driven the victim to the rendezvous Lindermuth had gone along and viewed the proceedings from behind a friendly hedge. None of the three identified any of the defendants in the present case, positively as taking part, in any of the proceedings which led up to the crime. Two thousand people lined the court all day anxious to hear Miss Chamberlain's testimony. Hundreds crouched in front of the regular seats for the spectators, scores more overflowed into the arena, and one old gentleman found a seat on the steps of Judge Grover's dais.

By the court's order, all minors were excluded, and the jury was committed to the care of a special bailiff until the case is decided.

County Attorney McCandless opened the case for the prosecution, and said in part:

"It becomes the duty of the prosecution at this time to impress you with a clear statement of the facts in this case, together with the evidence upon which the state of Kansas hopes you will find these three defendants guilty under the information I have just read.

"The state will show, first that a plot, scheme and plan was entered into by the defendants in this case for the purpose of assaulting one Mary Chamberlain.

"Second, where and how it was carried into effect.

"It will show how many of these men have already been found guilty of taking part in this crime, and how these defendants were the very men who went on Ricord's bond, but gave him up when they learned he had told the county attorney of their part in the affair."

FOR ANNUAL RIVER APPROPRIATION

Representative Gallagher Favors Two Million a Year for Ten Years.

INSPECTING WORK ALREADY DONE

Says He Will Support Measure to Provide Money for Missouri Improvement Work—Borland to Introduce Bill.

Jefferson City, Nov. 21.—Representative Thomas Gallagher of Chicago, a member of the rivers and harbors committee, favors a continuing appropriation of $2,000,000 annually for ten years for the improvement of the Missouri river for the purpose of navigation.

Mr. Gallagher and party just arrived here for an inspection of that part of the Missouri river between Kansas City and the mouth of the Gasconade, where the government expended $1,000,000 a number of years ago in revetment work. This was permanent in character and the river along this stretch of 40 miles is navigable at any season of the year.

Hugh Stephens, president of the Jefferson City Commercial club; Mayor Cecil Thomas and Representative Dorsey W. Shackleford and other Jefferson Citians, met the party at the train and took them by motor car to the western limits of the city, where the Lieutenant Augustin, a government boat, was awaiting them. Representative Gallagher and the members of the inspection party went up the river to Murray's Bend, a point a few miles west of Jefferson City, then returned and will go down the river to the mouth of the Gasconade to inspect that section of the river.

"The Missouri river has plenty of water for the purpose of navigation," said Mr. Gallagher, "and all that is needed is to control it. I am in favor of and will support a measure providing for an annual appropriation of $2,000,000 for the improvement of the Missouri river. I believe one of the Missouri congressmen, probably Mr. Borland, will introduce such a bill. I think the Missouri is entitled to as much consideration as the Ohio, and I am willing to do my part to see that it gets it."

Representative Borland says congress will be asked to give the Missouri river a continuing appropriation, and he is confident of landing it.

"I have found that of the entire amount of money set for the purpose of river and harbor improvement, fully 83 per cent is expended east of the Ohio river. That leaves only 17 per cent for the Missouri and Mississippi Valley and on west to the Pacific Coast.

"The cost of the two dreadnaughts will improve the Missouri river from its mouth to Kansas City and make it navigable every day in the year that it is clear of ice, and the people of this and other states interested should keep up the fight," he said.

JAUREZ HEARS SOUND OF BATTLE

Maderists Celebrating Cause Much Alarm Over Supposed Revolutionist Attack.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 21.—What was supposed at first to have been an attack on Juarez by Reyistas proved upon investigation to be the celebration by Maderistas of the anniversary of the beginning of the Madero revolution. The principal feature of the demonstration was the discharge of firearms, which gave rise to the report that followers of General Reyes were attacking Juarez.

The firing of the celebrants lasted an hour or more, the number of shots fired being estimated at 1,000. El Pasoans were aroused from their slumbers and flocked to the bridges to witness if possible what they felt sure was a battle.

This impression was deepened by the knowledge that the Jaurez garrison has been on the alert for sudden developments in connection with reports of revolutionary activities in which the name of General Reyes, now under arrest by the United States government, has been particularly connected.

Film Shows Must Be Safe.

Topeka, Nov. 21.—Gov. Stubbs and Owen Doyle, state labor commissioner, have started after the moving picture shows and will prosecute managers who fail to comply with the state law. The governor has learned that two exits do not mean two doors one on either side of the ticket window, but one exit there and another in some other part of the building. Many picture shows have the two exits at the front but none elsewhere.

FRESH OYSTERS
Direct from the coast. They are large enough to fry, and don't you know a New York Oyster is lighter in color and a finer flavor than Baltimore stock. They come to us in five-gallon cans SEALED. No ice ever put in the Oysters. Compare our Oysters with others and you can see the difference. We sell the solid meat. NO WATER. A trial will convince you we are right on the Oyster question.
